

Emily Kaneff
Research

Industry Professional

Name: Brett and Kevin Young

Company: RdyToGo

- Offers full range of support services to ensure that the customer is getting the best experiences
- Community involvement
  - Visiting elementary schools and helping them learn basic programming skills
  - Attend technology expos to offer code lessons to people interested
- Keeps an ongoing blog with advice on different aspects in the web industry
  - Also updates on if they are going to any events locally
- Has foundation of honesty in the company
- Started out as just a computer repair company then expanded to “cast a wider net”
- What makes them stand out?
  - Compassion and appreciation for their clients
  - Approach each site as if it were their own
  - Work within client’s budgets

Who is using JavaScript and why?

<http://www.kriesi.at/archives/50-websites-that-make-amazing-use-of-javascript>

Just from this website, it appears that companies are using JavaScript to enhance user experience. They use it in small ways to add animations or functionalities that help to add to the overall design.

<http://ejohn.org/about/>

John Resig

Developer at Khan Academy and the creator of the jQuery JavaScript Library

<http://dean.edwards.name/about/>

Dean Edwards

-He uses JavaScript mostly for games, since that is what got him into the language to begin with.

-Created IE7.js and cssQuery

-creator of Packer script